

John Arturo - When did you start collecting and how did you get into the hobby?

brokenenglish101 - When I was a kid my mom would come home every once in awhile with a stack of random issues of comic books. After that I was hooked. And I was always a huge fan of the Spider-man, X-men, Batman, etc. Saturday morning cartoons...So of course comics were just the right push towards an insane spiral of super hero addiction. John Arturo - Your collection seems to contain lots of TMNT. Why so much love for the turtles? brokenenglish101 - The turtles were always around while growing up. I received a lot of the toys for birthdays and holidays. It was like living in the "We Wish You a Turtle Christmas" video. So I would have to say the availability is the main reason. In my opinion the Turtles are the ultimate creation
