

John Arturo - When did you start collecting and how did you get into the hobby? Jason Haftar - Well I started when I was five with He-Man figures, G I Joe, and Transformers, then moved up to comics. John Arturo - Your collection is all over the board and doesn't just hit one character or universe. Jason Haftar - Well first off, it is what I like and things I am interested in. I love both Marvel and DC, and also Dark Horse. These are the characters I relate to, and that I grew up on. John Arturo - Do you collect anything else? Jason Haftar - Yes I collect the things I like, but want things no one else has. I like to have a variety of things. I have friends find me things when they're on trips, stuff that is unique to my collection. I want a little of everything, just stuff
