

John Arturo - When did you start collecting and how did you get into the hobby? Jay Casas - I started collecting Transformers when I was a kid. I had Transformer toys from Beast Wars, Beast Machines, Robots in Disguise, and Armada. I really liked robots over monsters and aliens that other kids collected in their youth. After I collected a hundred Transformers I started watching Mobile Suit Gundam Wing when it was airing on Cartoon Network's "Toonami" and I haven't stopped collecting Gundams since. John Arturo - Your collection mainly consists of Gundams, what makes Gundams so special to you? Jay Casas - In the television shows, Gundams are built to be far superior than any robot. It's not like Transformers where their are two opposing sides of robots fighting each other it's usually four or five Gundams going up against armies of robots and the Gundams always win. Each

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/johnarturo/news/?a=53621&t=CBM_Collectors_Collections_-_Jay_Casas