

John Arturo - When did you start collecting and how did you get into the hobby? Joe C. - I started collecting comics 18 years ago , and statues when i moved out of my parents house when i was 22. I'm not sure how I got into reading and collecting comics, but it was a natural progression from loving movies like Star Wars and Indiana Jones. Then I started to collect statues because I think it's an amazing art just like the books themselves. The Hasbro Marvel figure collecting started recently. I told myself i would never collect action figures because the collections can grow in size super fast and I don't really have the room and collecting statues felt more "mature", but I just fell in love with the designs and sculpts of the Marvel Universe figures. They are only 3.75 inches tall, but the detail and paint jobs

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/johnarturo/news/?a=47416&t=CBM_Collectors_Collections_-_Joe_C_AKA_sexfoodcomics