

John Arturo - When did you start collecting and how did you get into the hobby? MarvelChile - In 1981, when I was still a child. My father gave me a Spiderman Mego. From that moment on, Marvel superheroes became my favorites. John Arturo - You have a pretty diverse collection, but you do have lots of Marvel stuff. What draws you to Marvel? MarvelChile - That Spiderman toy was the beginning of everything. Near my house there was a toy store called Otto Kraus. I remember that once I ran away from home just to see more Marvel stuff in that store. I wandered alone many hours until my parents found me. On the way home, my father bought me a lot of comics and coincidentally they were all Marvel. It was love at first sight and I was only 3 years old. John Arturo - Do you collect anything else?

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/johnarturo/news/?a=54939&t=CBM_Collectors_Collections_-_MarvelChile