

John Arturo - When did you start collecting and how did you get into the hobby? obafsal - I started when I was little, like 7 y/o, my father used to get me a new comic book every week if I got good grades, I ended up being at the top of my class. About toys, just a few years ago, I think 2005. John Arturo - Your collection mainly consists of Marvel collectibles, what draws you to Marvel over another company like DC Comics? obafsal - I started reading Spider-Man and basically that was all I read when I was little, but whenever there was a crossover with any other character, that I didn't know at the time like Daredevil, Spiderwoman, X-men, Avengers, etc, then it got me interested in the other characters as well, never really got into DC much, although I like Wonder Woman. John Arturo - Do
