

Sleepy Hollow had kind of a throwback episode last night as they put a wicked twist on the Red Riding Hood story, putting Molly in immediate danger. Luckily, the team of Ichabod, Diana, & Jenny were able to persevere and put an end to the big bad wolf. Next week's episode has the team dealing with a supernatural infection that originates from a viral video, of all places, and they quickly find themselves in a race against the clock to discover a cure before the whole town goes down. Elsewhere, Molly has another ominous vision that doesn't paint a pretty picture for the future of humanity. Check out the promo for episode eight, titled "Sick Burn," below: A CURSE GOES VIRAL ON AN ALL-NEW "SLEEPY HOLLOW" FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 24, ON FOX When internet sensation Logan Macdonald comes to town, a supernatural infection hits, via a viral video. Meanwhile, Molly has a frightening vision that could predict a bleak future. Can the team cure the curse
