

The Spider-Man: Homecoming and Thor: Ragnarok Brazil CCXP displays are now up, and we have some snaps via seperate Twitter and Instagram sources for you guys to take a look at. There's nothing too revealing (pretty sure the Hulk and Thor statues are from The Avengers?), but there are some cool interactive Spidey displays which allow attendees to see the world from the Webhead's perspective. Perhaps more interesting are a batch of Tom Holland head-shots, that give us a look at the young actor in character as Peter Parker. Note the unmistakable red costume visible under his coat. The Spider-Man: Homecoming CCXP panel is set to kick off tomorrow at 10:30 AM EST.
