

Talking to MTV News while promoting his latest movie, Puncture, the actor has shared his thoughts on what it was like to work with Stan Lee on the set of The Avengers. Of course, he wouldn't divulge any details of the scene he shared with the comic book creator, but had nothing but good things to say about his time filming alongside "The Man". Get More: Movie Trailers, Movies Blog "He's an amazing human being. The guy is a living legend. He's so positive and so upbeat and so energetic and just a nice man. There are very few people I've met who have achieved so much and have still maintained this youthful excitement." "He's so happy to do things. He's so excited to live his life. He wakes up every day and he's so excited to be Stan Lee. It's a great thing that someone can hang on to that after years of

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/joshw24/news/?a=46438&t=Chris_Captain_America_Evans_Discusses_Stan_Lees_iThe_Avengersi_Cameo