

Promoting his upcoming drama flick Puncture with the Huffington Post, 'Captain America' actor Chris Evans discussed the forthcoming superhero team-up spectacle The Avengers. Dotting on the story, further praise for 'Iron Man' co-star Robert Downey Jr, the action as well how faithful it will be to the spirit of the classic comics, read on below. "He's in modern day, he has troubles," he says of his Captain America character. "He actually gets to have things that he might have be able to shoulder, you know what I mean? He can't just put it on his back. He's a fish out of water. Everyone knows he's dead, & he's in a foreign time, & 'The Avengers,' he gets to be a little bit darker, which is nice." "Going into it, you're like, who knows? I don't know how this is gonna go," he admitted. "There's a lot of big actors, a lot of big

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/MarvelFreshman/news/?a=46451&t=Chris\_Evans\_Comments\_On\_The\_Action\_In\_iThe\_Avengersi\_Robert\_Downey\_Jr\_And\_More