

Chris Evans and Captain America: The First Avenger has a total of seven nominations at the upcoming 38th Annual Saturn Awards. It's not the only comic book movie to have received recognition from the Academy as both Thor and X-Men: First Class also feature prominently in the list below. Plenty of other popular 2011 films such as Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows Part 2, Mission Impossible: Ghost Protocol, Rise of the Planet of the Apes and Super 8 have gotten various nods too, making it nearly impossible to predict who and what will end up emerging victorious. Perhaps the best piece of news for movie fans will be a Best Supporting Actor nomination for Andy Serkis after he was snubbed at the Academy Awards earlier this month. Check out the full press release below (which includes the incredibly lengthy list of nominations) and sound off with your thoughts in the

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/JoshWildingNewsAndReviews/news/?a=55532&t=Chris_Evens_Receives_Best_Actor_Nod_At_Saturn_Awards_For_CAPTAIN_AMERICA