

Zap2It caught up with Chris Hemsworth at the premiere for Marvel's The Avengers and chatted a little bit with the Aussie actor about Thor's next solo movie. Hemsworth said he hasn't read the script yet, but praised Avengers director Joss Whedon for the handling of the Jane Foster Thor story. "The big challenge was, we left 'Thor' with that hope of Jane Foster on Earth and Thor in another realm kind of somehow getting together. You know, I think the satisfying thing would be to see that happen. Joss did a great job of fostering that and putting her out of the picture for the moment," he said. According to Hemsworth the maturity that Thor gained in his first movie outing will really be put to the test with him continuing, "I think he would like, now, to be put in the position to take over the throne and be worthy

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/JakeLester/news/?a=57875>