

Being aboard a sinking ship on Earth is one thing, but being aboard a malfunctioning ship in the middle of space is a whole different kind of terror, but that's exactly where Chris Pratt (Guardians of the Galaxy, Vol. 2) & Jennifer Lawrence (X-Men: Apocalypse) find themselves this December 21st. Yesterday, Sony Pictures Entertainment released what is presumably the final trailer for Morten Tyldum's upcoming space romance Passengers showcasing the full scale of the threat our two heroes are facing. Check it out below:  Plus, here's an intense new clip:

And, here are a ton of new hi-resolution stills:  On a routine journey through space to a new home, two passengers, sleeping in suspended animation, are
