

Speaking to ScreenRush, oscar winner Christian Bale finally steps up to talk about the highly-anticipated final Batman installment. Check it out below! What's it like shooting in IMAX?

I have had a little experience from the last one and when we made The Prestige, Chris was experimenting with it. It's bloody noisy with those cameras but it's going to be a hell of a great little shot. It makes the audience feel like they're in it. It's a lovely piece of machinery. There is a lot of hype about this film. Was there any doubt in your mind to make another with Chris Nolan again? I knew it was going to happen for me because I was contracted to do this film. I had no choice, I would have been sued up the ying yang and be on the street and penniless. Chris has always talked about this being a trilogy and

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/CoastToCoastStation/news/?a=45286&t=Christian_Bale_Finally_Shares_His_Thoughts_On_iThe_Dark_Knight_Risesi