

While chatting with Inquirer Christan Bale talked a little bit about the people he shares the screen with in The Dark Knight Rises. Bale said he has plenty of scenes with Anne Hathaway and said that Tom Hard is a phenomenal actor. He also said that he is intrigued by Joseph Gordon-Levitt and appreciates his love of acting. On Anne Hathaway: "I had plenty of scenes with Anne, and I was there when we did the screen test for her. The thing that I said to Chris [Nolan] that day was that there were many very accomplished actresses who had read for the role. I'm terrible at auditions, so I'm very impressed when somebody really seems to acquire an ownership of a character without having worked on it or prepared for some amount of time." I saw that in Anne, When Chris watched the screen test, he agreed that Anne did a wonderful

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/JakeLester/news/?a=50310&t=Christian_Bale_Talks_About_His_Co-Stars_On_iThe_Dark_Knight_Risesi