

While chatting with The LA Time Hero Complex Captain America: The First Avenger co-writer Christopher Markus expressed interest in having the villain MODOK involved in a future Cap flick. Markus also revealed who he has in mind to play the Mental Organism Designed Only for Computing. "I love MODOK and I think you could make a terrifying movie with MODOK but nobody seems to be on my side at the moment." Markus has thought who he would like to play MODOK as well. He wants to turn to Game Of Thrones Actor Peter Dinklage to terrorize in the costume. "I will win you over to Peter Dinklage as MODOK. If he came around the corner and you saw him floating there you would be terrified. It would be amazing." He then went on to praise the SFX team of The First Avenger and says he has no doubts that he thinks they could pull off
