

As of right now, the roster of Task Force X looks a lot like the version we saw on the big screen earlier this year, and the Justice League team isn't too different to the one we'll see next November. As a result, Justice League vs. Suicide Squad promises to give us an idea of what it would be like for these characters to clash in live-action because that's exactly what this series is going to be all about! Of course, we have no idea whether or not the League will ever come to blows with Task Force X in a movie, but this series promises to be a must-buy when it starts in December. Talking to Comic Book Resources, Joshua Williamson also promised that it will help shed some light on the secrets of DC Rebirth. "I think the most I can say is, so far we know The Flash, Wally and some characters are aware that something is coming, and
