

It was only yesterday that we learned of Marvel's plans to cancel Ghost Rider and Black Panther: The Most Dangerous Man Alive and Comic Book Resources have now learned that Daken: Dark Wolverine is to be added to the ever increasing list of cancelled titles. Talking to the site, Editor-in-Chief Axel Alonso revealed that the series (penned by Rob Williams) will come to an end sometime in the near future, with February's issue #21 the beginning of the end. On the recent cancellations he said: "It's always disappointing when a title comes to an end. I'll bet everyone reading this column still mourns the death of a title or two they loved – and wonder why the book didn't stick. And I guarantee you that as frustrated as a fan might be, there's a writer, artist and an editor who are even more disappointed. That's just the way things go sometimes. The

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/joshw24/news/?a=50035&t=COMICS_Another_One_Bites_The_Dust_Marvel_Now_Plan_On_Ending_Daken_Dark_Wolverine