

Marvel Comics is offering a special "Comic Shop Variant" incentive covers to retailers for the December-debut issue of Jeph Loeb and Ed McGuinness' 4-issue Cable vs. the Avengers limited series Avengers: X-Sanction, which Marvel says plays a large role in setting up their big 2012 plans. By meeting certain ordering incentives, retailers can choose one of the 2 offered covers, by artists Carlo Pagulayan and Bryan Hitch, respectively, which includes an area in which retailers can personalize the covers for their comic book shop.

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/joshw24/news/?a=47561&t=COMICS_Awesome_Comic_Shop_Variant_Covers_For_Avengers_X-Sanction_1