

Thanks to Comic Book Resources, we have a first look at this November's The Indestructible Hulk, from the creative team of writer Mark Waid (Fantastic Four) and Lenil Yu (Secret Invasion). Below are a few excerpts from an interview with the duo about the series, but be sure to click on the link below to read it in full. Mark Waid On Taking Over The Hulk From Jason Aaron: It feels amazing. Honestly, it's a lot like my experience with "Fantastic Four" -- I never thought I'd want to write this book until it was offered and I began thinking about it. So many great writers, so many landmark moments -- it was intimidating, still is. But the more I began to think about the relationship between Bruce and Hulk, the more I began fantasizing about what it would be like to take the core concept a little more "back to center"
