

We've known for a while that the Fantastic Four will return with #600 in November (whether that'll include Johnny Storm is unknown) and that the Future Foundation will continue, instead focusing on the younger members of that team rather than Reed, Sue, Ben and Spidey. The latest teaser features Franklin Richards seemingly pledging his allegiance to the villainous Doctor Doom! What does it mean? Guess we'll have to wait and see! Fantastic Four #601, written by Jonathan Hickman and with art by Steve Epting will be on sale in December alongside FF #13 also by Hickman, but with artist Juan Bobillo.
