

Many thanks to Hero Complex for the following excerpts. Be sure to click on the link below to head on over to the site, where you'll find much more from the Uncanny X-Men and Generation Hope writer on what's in store for the mutant race in the coming months. For now, here are a few of the main points, all of which hint at some huge changes for the popular characters following the events of "Schism" and "Regeneration". On The Ideological Differences Which Cause The Split Between The Mutants: Not wanting to spoil the story, the core disagreement is about how much of the present should you be willing to give up for the future. As I said, Cyclops made all sorts of hard, leaning gray decisions — which he's doing to make sure the mutants have a future. Wolverine, while involved in most of the gray decisions, thinks that Cyclops is still
