

BOOM! Studios, DC Comics, and Twentieth Century Fox have teamed up to bring together two celebrated pop culture properties in a historic comics crossover event when the talking simians of the Planet of the Apes meet the Emerald Crusaders of the Green Lantern Corps. Written by Robbie Thompson (Silk) and Justin Jordan (Green Lantern), and illustrated by Barnaby Bagenda (The Omega Men), Planet of the Apes/Green Lantern debuts February 1st, 2017 as a six-issue monthly limited series. "We've been having endless amounts of fun collaborating with our friends at DC Entertainment and this new crossover only ups the ante," said BOOM! Studios Editor-in-Chief Matt Gagnon today. "Both Planet of the Apes and Green Lantern boast decades of entertaining stories and dozens of fan-favorite characters. The result of crossing over these two incredible franchises is an ambitious, epic story that's brimming with one of the most enjoyable cast of characters in all of comics." Planet of the Apes/Green Lantern is a great idea, and

Read more: https://www.comicbookmovie.com/comics/dc_comics/comics-new-artwork-and-details-revealed-for-green-lantern-planet-a146874