

Ever since Norman Osborn forgot Spider-Man's secret identity as a result of Brand New Day, it's been a little hard to get invested in stories featuring the two characters. However, after plaguing Peter Parker while he was in charge of H.A.M.M.E.R. and then again when Doctor Octopus was the "Superior" Spider-Man, the now powerless - and sane - villain is back with revenge clearly now on his mind. "PARKER VS. OSBORN!!!" teases the synopsis for an upcoming trade. "In the end of Superior Spider-Man, Peter Parker cured Norman Osborn of the Goblin serum and insanity. But Peter didn't realize that a sane Norman Osborn is more dangerous than ever. Can Spider-Man wield the full power of Parker Industries to take on Osborn's military might?! The end of Parker Industries begins here!" Written by Dan Slott with artwork by Stuart Immonen, this arc should be pretty interesting, but it's not exactly as exciting as seeing the wall-crawler going head to head with the Green
