

Thanks to Bleeding Cool, we have the following spoiler from the latest issue of Fear Itself #5, which went on sale today. Now, I may be a little rusty on my Captain America knowledge, but have we ever seen his iconic shield completely shattered in this way? Whether we have or not, it'll be interesting to see how Marvel handle this latest development! The series has received a somewhat mixed response from fans and critics alike so far, but what do you make of this latest development from writer Matt Fraction? Ouch! Between this and killing off Bucky, I'm beginning to think Fraction isn't exactly a Captain America fan! Of course, this whole series is about instilling fear in the Marvel Universe's many superheroes, and this is sure to push Cap to his breaking point...remember to pick up Fear Itself #5 for more!
