

As we told you yesterday, the new "Marvel NOW!" Spider-Man series will NOT feature Peter Parker behind the mask. As if that wasn't enough to rile up fans of the character, it was also revealed by series writer Dan Slott that the new Spider-Man's love interest will be none other than Peter's former wife, Mary Jane Watson! Needless to say, The Superior Spider-Man has not been met with a positive reaction (more details can be found by clicking HERE), and Ryan Stegman's cover for issue #2 won't do anything to calm down those fretting about the dark direction that Marvel will be taking the iconic character in next January.
