

Bleeding Cool point out the following teaser image, which may just indicate that the Fantastic Four will return to its original numbering this November. What makes them think that you ask? Well, the title wrapped up last year following the death of Johnny Storm at #588, and began instead with the retitled FF #1. As the site points out, both #10 and #11 will be released in October, making it the perfect time to then return to #600. With the teaser boasting the original symbol, and an all star cast of writers and artists, this seems to be a very likely outcome. The question that remains, is does this mean we'll see the return of Johnny Storm? Why else would the FF (Future Foundation) seemingly return to being the Fantastic Four? Who knows what writer Jonathan Hickman has up his sleeve!
