

Did any of the characters in that Superboy #1 preview I posted the other day look familiar to you? (you can find it by clicking HERE) Well, according to Bleeding Cool, they should have done! The site report that the redhead with glasses is in fact the Wildstorm character known as Fairchild from Gen 13! Bleeding Cool has learned from a flappy ex-Wildstorm staffer who couldn't keep his/her flappy overexcited mouth shut that this is exactly who she is. Another Wildstorm character ensconced in the new DC Universe. For those not in the know, Caitlin Fairchild, or just Fairchild, was a genetically modified young lady, tall, tough and very strong indeed. This is how she appeared before her transformation back in Gen 13 #1...

Hmm...wonder how long it'll be until we see her in this form? Be sure to share your thoughts on this news in the usual place!
