

With Disney gearing up for a big John Carter promotion this week (click for new images HERE, and for a brand new poster click HERE), the Academy Award-winning composer Michael Giacchino, who scored films such as Super 8, 50/50, The Incredibles, Up and more, recently talked to Crave Online about the sound of Andrew Stanton's big screen adaptation and what can we expect. "Hopefully it sounds like Barsoom (which is Martian for Mars). Hopefully it sounds like the epic, massive story that it is. That's really what we want. This is going to be big, epic, romantic, frightening and also emotional. It was one of those things when you hear of a film being made and you go, "Well, I have to do that." That was one of those ones. I'm a huge fan of Andrew Stanton, and while I've known him for many years we've never worked together in that

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/Wolvie09/news/?a=50431&t=Composer Michael Giacchino Talks About Scoring JOHN CARTER