

A few weeks ago, last month, it was rumored that in the latest issue of FSM Online, Captain America: The First Avenger composer, Alan Silvestri, was re-teaming with Marvel Studios on their Joss Whedon-directed blockbuster, The Avengers. There were also rumors that Silvestri's wife leaked the news early on Facebook. Well now, the filmography of Alan Silvestri has been updated on his official webpage, evidently confirming that he'll indeed be taking charge of the musical arrangement for the assembly of Earth's Mightiest Heroes. Credits falling under The Avengers and Captain America: The First Avenger include Predators, Predators 2, The Mummy Returns, and two more that earned him Academy Award nominations - Forrest Gump and Polar Express. Back in July, Alan stated that, if asked, he'd be very happy to continue the relationship with Marvel. Considering Marvel's The Avengers is in post-production, and has been for a little over a month, we can expect this

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/MarvelFreshman/news/?a=49373&t=CONFIRMED_iCaptain_Americai_Composer_Alan_Silvestri_IS_Scoring_iThe_Avengersi