

Check out the new clip from tomorrow's US premiere of Justice League Action. Constantine, Superman, Wonder Woman and Batman arrive at the House of Mystery and they're joined by Green Arrow, Swamp Thing and Plastic Man. This is a pretty powerful team but they're going against foes that have the ability to nullify their abilities. Perhaps a team of non super-powered vigilantes like the Dark Knight and Emerald Archer are better suited for the task? We also have this official still from WB Animation which reveals the Djinn that our heroes will be teaming up to stop. Will you be tuning in to the premiere, tomorrow at 6pm on Cartoon Network? Be sure to visit CBM later today for my full review of the premiere.

The world's greatest DC Super Heroes are heading to Cartoon Network in the premiere of Justice League Action, an all-new animated series that will kick off with "Shazam Slam," a four-part special event debuting, Friday, Dec. 16 at 6:00

Read more: https://www.comicbookmovie.com/justice_league/constantine-joins-batman-wonder-woman-and-superman-in-new-justice-a147532