

Batman-on-Film has a very interesting rumor, their longtime source, "industry insider," claims that Warner Bros. is considering setting the new Justice League into it's own universe. A separate continuity from Zack Snyder's Man of Steel. Meaning, Henry Cavill would not be featured in Justice League, nor would the new rebooted Batman, whoever that will be. Question: Could a JUSTICE LEAGUE movie be set within it's own continuity and universe without any tie-ins to future DC Comics-based solo films? Rumor has it that Warner Bros. has at least considered the possibility, according to a longtime film industry insider "FOBOF." This isn't the first time Warner Bros. has considered this strategy. When George Miller (Mad Max) was putting together his Justice League film the plan was to feature a Superman and a Batman that were not played by Brandon Routh (Superman Returns) or Christian Bale (Batman Begins). So what do you think of the possibilities of
