The following item has been listed on eBay.co.uk with the following description: Brand new top given to creative team who worked on the forthcoming X Men First Class film in the UK & the USA. Very rare item & sure to be very collectable in the future. Jacket is olive green in colour & is a size small. Jacket is a 'fruit of the loom' cotton hooded jacket with 2 hand pockets & full front zip. Very nice quality. Screen printed X Men First Class crew logo on the bottom of the back of the jacket (on right hand side) . Really beautiful item. A must have for any X Men film fan. While I think it's common sense that the one we see in the movie won't have the words "Cast And Crew 2010" written on it, there's still a chance that this might just be a variation of the actual logo.
