

This is my first article, and merely a wish of courtesy, it is not my intent to bash anyone, or start any trouble! As an avid reader of this sites content, and general superhero fan, I frequent articles to get plenty of details on my favorite heroes. This site doubles as a great intel forum for awesome shows like "The Walking Dead" as well. I have never had a profile, and was going to get around to making one, but today's events motivated me to create one. As of January I have been deployed, serving for the Air Force, and I cannot keep up with one of my favorite shows, the aforementioned "Walking Dead." I am a huge fan of the show and have seen season 2 part 1. I have been patiently waiting to come home and finish out the

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/news/?a=56259>