

One of the highlights of this past Sunday's season finale of The Walking Dead was when the character Michonne was revealed. Shortly after Executive Producer Robert Kirkman announced on The Talking Dead that actress Danai Gurira would be portraying her. Gurira sat down with The Hollywood Reporter to talk a little bit about the role and how excited she is of joining The Walking Dead universe. On the arrival of Michonne and what the past couple of days have been like: "It's been pretty amazing. I got the job on Friday, so it's very new. I'd never really watched it before I got the audition and I got to really get acquainted with it during these last few weeks and fell completely in love with it. I'm absolutely hooked. I felt desire really deeply to be a part of it. When I got to work with the producers one day and came back

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/JakeLester/news/?a=56775>