

It's been awfully quiet on the Iron Fist front lately, but with five or so weeks left on the countdown clock, Marvel has released a sweet new banner for the upcoming series as well as five cool new promotional stills. The timing of the release, which is right ahead of the Super Bowl, is probably not coincidental as it could be an early indicator that an official full-length trailer for Marvel's latest Netflix series may be with us much sooner than later, possibly even as early as tomorrow - although, that is unconfirmed at this point. In the meantime, check out the five new photos, which feature almost all of the main cast, including Finn Jones, Jessica Henwick, Rosario Dawson, Jessica Stroup, Tom Pelphrey, and Carrie-Anne Moss, below:
