

It's finally 2017, which means we're closer than ever to the arrival of one of DC's finest - Wonder Woman. The Patty Jenkins-directed feature, which stars Gal Gadot in the title role, will be the latest installment in Warner Bros.' ambitious DC Films Universe and after the less than ideal response to their 2016 offerings, many are hoping that this one can help them course correct ahead of their highly anticipated team-up film in November, Justice League. In addition to Gadot, Chris Pine, Connie Nielsen, Robin Wright, David Thewlis, Lucy Davis, and Danny Huston will co-star. A new Russian trailer for the film was released late last night featuring a new cut of mostly recycled footage and maybe a quick shot or two of new stuff. Check it out below: Before she was Wonder Woman, she was Diana, princess of the Amazons, trained to be an unconquerable warrior. Raised on a sheltered island paradise, when an American pilot crashes on their shores and tells of a
