

The website avpgalaxy.net has posted a newspaper clipping of article that recently appeared in The Daily Star newspaper. It was an interview with the Scottish born actress Kate Dickie, 40, who according to her will be in the film, but for just 28 minutes before she is eaten by an alien. And, BOOM goes the dynamite! Kate also revealed who her character is and the fate of herself and the rest of the crew. The Daily Star reveals, "Kate plays a tough first officer called Mudow, who needs to help her fellow crew members become acclimatised to their removal from cryo-sleep after a long space journey which ends on an apparently barren planet. With their muscles wasted from five years without use, she helps them to get fit - only for them to fall victims to horrible creatures that begin stalking them for food." Now, hold up a bit! There is a bit
