

When we first spotted Sebastian Shaw using his powers in an X-Men: First Class TV spot a couple of months ago, there were a lot of questions about the clearly different way the use of his powers were being portrayed. Well, we finally have some answers! Below are a few excerpts taken from the full interview over at Comicus. To read that, be sure to head on over to the site by clicking on the link below in order to hear more from Digital Domain about their work on X-Men: First Class. What shots and characters did you work on for X-Men: First Class? Digital Domain created all visual effects and animation related to the Sebastian Shaw character (Kevin Bacon), who has the ability to absorb any kind of energy—punches, bullets, explosions, etc.—and redirect it outward by “kinetic echo” as a kind of weapon/superpower. We worked closely with overall visual effects supervisor John
