

Hi ComicBookMovie Readers! Once again, I am back with my own level of dementia involving comic books, television, and science fiction. As promised, I will relay to you folks the reasons why I am deciding to stop collecting my favorite comic book series of all time: The X-Men. Don't get me wrong. I have a fondness for all of the characters. They were my "family" when I felt like an outcast to the rest of the world. You saw from my favorites list how high I regard Nightcrawler and Iceman in particular. But there comes a time when a man must move on from the trappings of his youth. When an act becomes one of repetition rather than love and it all feels like a chore. If doing something you love feels like a chore, I view it as time to stop the addiction. Cold Turkey... To me, a major hook

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/BenCave/news/?a=50727&t=EDITORIAL_Why_I_Am_Finished_With_The_X-Men