

Speaking to the Chicago Sun-Times, Emma Stone had the following to say: On whether we'll see a repeat of the famous upside-down kiss.... Why would we do an upside-down kiss? I'm not Mary Jane. I'm Gwen Stacy in the Spider-Man film. "New girl. New kiss," says Stone, adding, "I wanted to do different kisses to make our mark." On her overall thoughts about filming the movie, which wrapped in May.... "Of course, it was amazing to do the big action superhero movie," Stone says. "But to me, this 'Spider-Man' actually feels very down to earth. It's a love story for my character, a simple love story told in the midst of this big, big world." On whether she had many stunts to perform in the movie "It wasn't too high-flying for me, so you could say I'm the grounding influence." On how she will handle her budding stardom "Am I allowed to have an attitude now?" she jokes. "Did I

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/GraphicCity/news/?a=44519&t=emEmma_Stoneem_On_Her_emAmazing_Spider-Manem_Kiss