

Here is the second part of my CBM exclusive interview with Gene Fallaize, writer, director, and co-producer of the upcoming 'Superman: Requiem' fan film. In this part Gene gives us more information on the running time of the film, what influenced the plot, and if we can expect to see any interesting cameos. In this movie we see Superman dealing with the loss of his powers, was this decision influenced by budget? When I wrote the film last Summer I knew that being a fan-film we wouldn't have much in the way of budget, so tried to think of a way to make sure costs could be saved, while still making an interesting story. Sure, like many fans, I'd love to see an all-out action Superman film, but realistically without much of a budget that wasn't something we could do, and if we tried I think it would have come back to haunt
