

Last August we were lucky enough to get a preview of The Avengers thanks to the numerous set photos and videos taken by Cleveland locals during filming of the movie in the city. We saw everything from exploding vehicles to Loki (Tom Hiddleston) on a rampage and Captain America (Chris Evans) and Thor (Chris Hemsworth) fighting mysterious motion capture actors. However, a few locals were lucky enough to actually be on set as extras and Goebel Group owner David Goebel was lucky enough to be one of them! He wrote about his experiences HERE, so be sure to click on the link for some of his fantastic photos and videos as well as a few more details. David was kind enough to answer my questions when I got in touch with him and what follows is a lengthy and revealing interview about his time on the set of The Avengers. How exactly
