

We saw some pretty good posters for The Phantom Menace 3D re-release last night, but here are some lovely fan made one sheets for all six of the Star Wars flicks. They depict some great, memorable moments from each film (well, MOST films). Even though there are perhaps some more iconic images or scenes they could have used, I like the ones they went with. Which is your favorite? Thanks to Travis English for these, visit his blog by clicking the link below. Via Live For Films up your game at Gambling Insider
