

The Beginning FanExpo Canada is a truly amazing event with an incredibly friendly atmosphere. I really don't know why I waited this long to go to a truly amazing Canadian convention filled with passionate creators, guests, staff and exhibitors. As soon as you step onto the show floor, you are thrust into a world of many fandoms, it's just incredibly overwhelming. It felt like a summer Halloween, except adults and guests took part as well. My Saturday started at 3'o clock in the morning as I woke to prepare for what seemed to be a great day. I showered, ate breakfast, packed all the comics I wanted to get signed (which stayed unsigned, more on that later.) and headed out to the con with a friend at 9am. I'm almost never in Toronto; I live in a small city not 30 minutes away from it so visiting the big city is always a
