

YouTube user 'lgfb1film' has made the following video featuring a LEGO version of the classic intro to the Adam West Batman series from the 1960's, which sticks very close to the original intro. Thanks to Bleeding Cool for the heads up, and as the site notes, "The intro the 1966 Batman TV series was never dazzling in its complexity, just breezy and bright. By hemming pretty close to the original, the creators of this Lego remake have made the job in hand nicely do-able." To check out the rest of lgfb1film's videos, click here.
