

I think this is pretty impressive. Some great action sequences and a few decent performances. A few not so decent too but hey, they are still better than the ones in Rise Of Cobra! Have a look and then see what the film maker has to say about capturing that "Joe" feeling when you were a kid.. From Cheng's Youtube channel.. This is NOT the GI Joe movie you're dying to unsee. This is the GI Joe movie I saw in my head more than 25 years ago. I watched the cartoons, read the comics, and collected the toys when I was a kid. Eventually I moved on from GI Joe but from that franchise came my love for war movies - Saving Private Ryan, Black Hawk Down, Band of Brothers - and my deep respect for the armed services and the men and women who serve. Through working on this film - a process

Read more: http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/rorschachsrants/news/?a=50250&t=FAN_MADE_20_Minute_iGI_Joei_Fan_Film_-_Operation_Red_Retrieval