

The poster was made by RyanLuckoo over at Deviant Art. Be sure to stop by and give him some props. I love these minimalist or retro style (whatever you want to call em) posters and wish Hollywood would take a queue from them from time to time instead of the usual posing, Photoshoped messes we tend to get for our one sheets. I think this is one of the best we have seen anyway. Here are small and large versions so you can see the entire pic without scrolling down. Thanks to RimBreaks for the heads up.
