

I won't go on about Drive too much here since it has nothing at all to do with CBMs (I have been looking for an excuse to talk about it:) I'll just say it's a damn masterpiece, see it. Anyway the main character in the movie, the unnamed Driver played by Ryan Gosling, could certainly be seen as something of a Han Solo type..only with a bit more of a predilection for stamping people's heads in. YouTube user ChiefBrodyRules has taken this idea and run with it, producing the following awesome fan trailer.. If you haven't seen Drive you may not get the most from that, but seeing Albert Brooks character Bernie as Jabba had me giggling. Via Cinemablend By TwitterButtons.com
