

The Green Arrow show on CW is gathering an interesting and diverse cast of DC Comics characters to join the Emerald Archer (Stephen Amell) in his first solo television show. This time it's DC supporting character Felicity Smoak, (Emily Bett Rickards) who is the stepmom of Firestorm [well one-half anyway] that's been added to the cast. Smoak is married to Ed Raymond, who is the father of high schooler Ronnie Raymond, who constitutes one-half of the Firestorm entity with physicist Martin Stein. The character is set to appear in Episode 3, which is also confirmed to be Deadshot's (Michael Rowe) debut as well. The showrunners for Arrow have previously stated that there won't be any super-powered heroes or villains appearing on the show so don't expect to see Firestorm show up on your television screen. With Green Arrow himself just starting out in the superhero biz, we

Read more: <http://www.comicbookmovie.com/fansites/GraphicCity/news/?a=65060>